Forward-looking statements

This presentation, as well as other statements made by Delphi Automotive PLC (the “Company”), contain forward-looking statements that reflect, when made, the Company’s current views with respect to current events, certain investments and acquisitions and financial performance. Such forward-looking statements are subject to many risks, uncertainties and factors relating to the Company’s operations and business environment, which may cause the actual results of the Company to be materially different from any future results. All statements that address future operating, financial or business performance or the Company’s strategies or expectations are forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from these forward-looking statements are discussed under the captions “Risk Factors” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” in the Company’s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. New risks and uncertainties arise from time to time, and it is impossible for us to predict these events or how they may affect the Company. It should be remembered that the price of the ordinary shares and any income from them can go down as well as up. The Company disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events and/or otherwise, except as may be required by law.

 - Staying flexible with clear path to mid-teens EPS growth
- Continue disciplined capital allocation plan
 - Maintain investment grade credit ratings
 - Pursue high return organic and inorganic growth opportunities
 - Return excess cash flow to shareholders

Foundation in place for continued outperformance

An aerial photograph of a city skyline, likely New York City, viewed from a high angle. The image is heavily overlaid with a blue tint and a network of thin, white, glowing lines that connect various points across the city, suggesting a digital or technological theme. The sky is a gradient of blue, with some wispy clouds visible in the upper right.

The future. Now.
